

Professor Prasanta Dey

Aston Business School
Aston University

Professor Dey is a professor in Operations and Information Management at Aston Business School, Aston University, UK.

Prior to joining Aston University in 2004, he worked for five years with the University of the West Indies in Barbados as a Director of a graduate project management program and 13 years in Indian Oil Corporation Limited, India as a project executive. He has a bachelor in mechanical engineering from Jadavpur University, Kolkata, India, Master's in Industrial engineering and management from Asian Institute of Technology, Bangkok, Thailand, and Doctoral degree in Production engineering from Jadavpur University. He specializes in low carbon supply chain management and project management. He is a visiting professor many international universities.

He is the chief editor of the International Journal of energy Sector Management. He has published more than hundred research papers in the leading international refereed journals. He has accomplished several research projects funded by Ford Foundation, Research Council, UK, British Council, and West Midlands Manufacturing Advisory Services. His industry clients include Jaguar Land Rover, Rolls Royce, JCB, L'Oreal, NHS, Britons Carpet, Cemex, General Dynamics, and Unocal.

www.aston.ac.uk/abs

